

Damn, Damn

V1

I don't go much for fantasy, It's a belly drop and an awful tease
To while away most every day, And think about love never made
But I saw a face an ageless face, to launch a thousand ships to space
That I will never get much nearer, Looking through my rear view mirror

Every day is like today, A chain of cars that snakes its way
To all of those suburban homes Where tonight I'll lay my lonely bones
And the stop and go is numbing though, today I'm glad we're moving slow
I've seen an angel in the car behind, And it's enough to make a grown man cry

Chorus

Damn, damn this traffic jam
She's over there and I might be her man
Ten feet away and all the while
It might as well be a million miles

V2

As people go I'm like the most, I'd like a job that's kind of close
But mine takes me so far away, It makes for long and lonely days
And I fill the time up I have free, I make my meals and watch T.V.
And try not to think of what was lost, And what I've gained And at what cost

But tonight the face will occupy, Centre stage in my mind's eye
I'll dream of me in a passion play, With the girl with the face I've seen today
And I wish that I could make this last, The time to see her face won't last
And she'll be gone when I blink my eyes, And it's enough to make a grown man cry

V3

Well here we go I gotta push some gas, And get this vehicle moving fast
To keep up with the traffic flow, I'd like to stay but we're on the go
I see that face fading far from view, And there is nothing that I can do
To linger just a little while, I hope we stop in another mile

This highway's paved with forgotten dreams, And the sordid tales of guys like me
Who fantasise that they might find, Love at last in the car behind
I check my mirror and can't believe, Her turn-off is here and she's gonna leave
I blow a kiss and wave goodbye, And it's enough to make a grown man cry
